

Study Furniture for the Future

Many new homes are now being established, both in town and country, and they will need to be properly furnished or outfitted. A good many other homes will simply need "fixing up." In either case, this store, equipped as it is with all kinds of good furniture ready for duty, will be of great help in bringing your plans to a realization.

The newest furniture the market affords is here, while new goods are daily arriving, and we're saving money for everybody who spends a dollar with us.

not to conflict with church services, the concert to be given in connection with the carnival to be held next week.

Former Overseer of the Poor W. J. Clapp appeared and said he had been receiving regularly a notice from the Quarry Savings bank that his account as overseer of the poor had been overdrawn $70.38 and that the notification was annoying. He explained that when he went out of office he cleaned up all the bills against the department, and that the overdraft was made then. It was voted that the auditors present a written report on the matter at the next meeting.

John Cleary was given permission to sell toy pistols and paper caps for the Fourth of July celebration.

A request from eight residents of Franklin street that sprinkling be dispensed with on that street caused the aldermen to be somewhat incensed, not because the petition was not signed by all the residents, but because of the belief that they should not be pestered by such petitions and that the public health demanded that the streets of the city be sprinkled. Matters came somewhat to a head a moment later, when a petition, signed by 41 residents and taxpayers of Washington street, presented a resolution calling for the sprinkling of that thoroughfare, contrary to a request previously presented from some of the property-owners. The water wagon crowd declared the conditions on the street on a dry day were "almost unbearable," being both "unhealthy and unsanitary." The petition went on to say that it was impossible to keep windows open "on account of the dust and filth which settles in our homes."

After hearing the petition, the aldermen designated Washington street as one of those to be sprinkled. No action was taken on the Franklin street petition, but it is presumed that the "drys" will lose out there, too.

On motion of the aldermen the city's tar barrels stored at the old Wells-Lamson property are to be disposed of. The report of the police department for the money of May showed 26 arrests, of which 21 were for intoxication and one each for the following offenses: Selling, search and seizure, breach of the peace, keeping house of ill fame, and begging. The report was accepted.

The following bills were ordered paid: $498.68 for the weekly payroll of the street department; $208.90, water department payroll; $136.63, fire department; $99.91, police department; $16, city hall janitor; $108.79 for stamped envelopes; $630.32, county tax money; $598.62, interest on notes to Farmers Loan & Trust Co.; $1,150, interest on bonds to the Barre Savings bank; $519.

75, N. D. Phelps Co. for cement; $1, John L. Maxson, repairing a typewriter; $5,000, to apply on the school appropriation.

MONTPELIER

Thomas J. Redmond Sued By Rawleigh Co. of Freeport, Ill.

The Rawleigh Co. of Freeport, Ill., has brought suit in Washington county court against Thomas J. Redmond of Montpelier for the sum of $606.11 and interest, claiming the amount due for supplies. D. A. and C. W. Perry of Barre have brought a petition in chancery against Wesley F. and Della G. Turney, W. H. Farrar, C. E. Lowe, J. C. Farrar, and Willie E. Cross, all of Montpelier, to secure equity as the result of assuming a mortgage on property sold by the Turneys to the Perrys. The property is located in Berlin and is known as the Frank Hill place. John W. Gordon is attorney for the orators.

Mrs. J. A. DeBoer, and daughter, Elizabeth, left to-day for Albany, N. Y., where they will make an indefinite visit with the former's daughter, Mrs. Ethel Field.

A marriage license was issued by the city clerk last evening to Frank James Mulhally and Abbie Frances Butler, both of Elm street, Montpelier.

Miss Sarah Stahl, who has been attending school in Boston for the past two years, is visiting in the city with relatives.

Mrs. C. C. Bancroft and children went to-day to Randolph to visit relatives.

Walbert Olinney of Barre street, who enlisted in the navy two weeks ago, received word yesterday that he must report at the naval training station at Newport next Saturday. He will leave Friday for Newport.

Several Montpelier young men who made application several weeks ago for positions in the quartermasters' reserve corps of the United States army, have been advised to go to Burlington Saturday for technical examination. Among those who have been ordered to report are Myers Tuttle, Francis Kelliher, A. C. Theriault and William Armstrong.

Saul M. Segal left this forenoon on a business trip of several days through the northern part of the state in the interests of the E. L. Segal Co.

Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Fitzgerald left yesterday afternoon for Montreal and Quebec and other Canadian points, and plan to absent until the first of next week.

Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Fassett of Seattle, Wash., who have been in the city for a few days as the guests of Rev. and Mrs. S. E. Fiske of College street, leave tomorrow for their home.

Mrs. Duncan McDonald, a former resident of this city, who recently accompanied the body of her husband from Fort Meyers, Fla., to Vermont, is passing some time with relatives in Barre and Washington.

Notice! You will save money if you buy Andes ranges for wood, coal and gas, also Perfection oil stoves, White Mountain refrigerators, lawn mowers, and Special sewing machines. Get prices. E. A. Prindle & Co., 200 Main street, Depot square.

Alexander Russell, president of the Quincy, Mass., branch of the granite cutters' association, is passing a few days with his brother, William W. Russell of Laurel street, having been called here by the death of James Reid. During the absence of James Duncan, president of the granite cutters' international association and vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, who is absent with the Root mission in Russia, Mr. Russell is assisting actively in the international headquarters at Quincy and will return to his home duties to-morrow.

Beginning this week employees of the Central Vermont railroad and the Vermont Tel. & Tel. Co. are enjoying the eight-hour day, a change which has brought about a readjustment in the shifts employed by the railroad on Barre branch passenger trains as well as among the yard crews. The eight-hour law affecting all railroads has been applied in a practical manner to the railroad work here in Barre and now the train men begin their day's work at 8 a. m. and quit at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Likewise the service crews of the telephone company start in at 7:30 and call it a day at 4:30. Overtime is allowed by both the railroad and the telephone companies.

Inquiries were set on foot late yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Elizabeth Leclair, a Sumner street woman, who is anxious to ascertain the whereabouts of her 16-year-old daughter, who disappeared from home Monday night. The mother has enlisted the assistance of the authorities as well as other individuals and hopes to obtain a trace of her daughter within a few days. Mrs. Leclair says the girl is subject to bad spells and she fears that she was taken suddenly ill while out for a walk. The girl left home during the supper hour and an examination of her effects afterward did not indicate that she expected to be absent from the house for long. Not long ago the girl's father, Peter Leclair, nearly lost his life when a Barre & Chelsea railroad train crashed into the blacksmith shop in which he was working on South Main street.

Persistence is one of the qualities which the L. A. C. management is using in its efforts to overcome the apparent purpose of the weather man in wrecking the club's Sunday baseball schedule this summer. After four futile attempts to stage a game at Intercity park on successive Sundays, the Italians will put forth another effort on the coming Sunday to cross bats with the machine shop team from Windsor. The game is planned as a curtain riser for the carnival week at the Berlin street park and the band which accompanies the World of Pleasure shows to Barre will play at the baseball game. The same band will be heard in a sacred concert in City square Sunday evening, permission having been obtained at the aldermanic meeting last night.

That children are the life of sundry picnics annually staged by clubs, granite manufacturing concerns, fraternal associations, etc., in the parks outlying Barre is evidenced by the decision of several organizations to forego their summer outings for a time because of restrictions placed by the board of health on all youngsters under the age of 16. First to defer plans for a picnic was the Old Cutler Corner School association, which was to have met at Dewey park Saturday. Now the Eagles, who have a big outing at Caledonia park every summer, are seriously debating a proposal to postpone indefinitely plans for a picnic July 7. Independence day picnics have been cancelled in several instances and it is probable that the city Sunday schools will abandon plans for outings until all danger of an infantile paralysis epidemic has passed.

Legislative strictures placed on the erection of bill boards in many states of the union are believed to be measurably responsible for the number of new bill boards that are springing up within the city limits of Barre and contiguous countryside. Recently a crew of men representing the Hardy Poster Co. of Malone, N. Y., traveling in a motor truck, invaded this section of Washington county with a supply of heavy timber and heavy metal sheathing. Overnight the rural roadsides have been indented with long bill boards and here in the city hundreds of yards of billboard space have been added to the generous complement of poster space available before the invasion from Malone. The crew is building substantially as the material and workmanship which go into the new type of bill boards is calculated to result in a structure that will survive for several years.

A very pleasant surprise was given Miss Ethel Inglis of 7 Clark street when ten girls, members of her Sunday school class, met at her home last evening. A short program was rendered, light refreshments were served and games were played. One of the pleasant features of the occasion was the presentation to Miss Inglis of a $2.50 gold piece and a box of writing paper. After the program, Miss Doris Lehigh, president of the class, called on Miss Merle Lundry, who made the presentation. Miss Inglis was taken completely by surprise, but responded in a few well-chosen words. Miss Inglis leaves soon to attend for a few weeks a summer school.

H., aided the auctioneer with their purchases in the dispersion sale of registered Holstein cattle at the farm of E. B. House near Berlin pond yesterday. Twenty cows sold for an average price of $275, the selling prices ranging from $185 to $465 and calves brought from $95 to $165. D. A. Perry acted as auctioneer and buying at all times was noticeably brisk.

FAYSTON

Schools in No. 7 closed Wednesday for the year. The pupils in No. 7 grammar school having no marks were: Donald Cota, none for the whole year; Beniah Moulton, Francis Moulton, James Cameron, Melvin Long, Melvin Livingston, Van Pierce and Mary Bettis, none for the spring term. They also found and identified 85 specimens of wild flowers. In No. 7 primary, Nora James had no marks for the year; Shirley Livingston, Eunice Bettis, Kenneth Kew, Otto Livingston and Sterling Livingston had none for the term.

Mrs. Lizzie Livingston has received through a Red Cross nurse from the hospital in England word that her son, Si W. Livingston, is not gaining as fast as at first. His wounds are healed nicely, but his back seems to be in a bad condition yet.

Merritt Bragg, Earl Barney, Joe Roberts, Ralph Jacobs and Carl Long were at Fort Ethan Allen Sunday.

Clarence Bettis had the misfortune to lose a horse Sunday morning. The animal was drowned in a mud bed in the pasture.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Because of precautions taken about town to guard against infantile paralysis, it has been decided to postpone indefinitely the picnic which was to have been held by the Sunday school of the First Baptist church, Friday.

Neal Blanchard left yesterday for Burlington, there to await orders for a transfer to Newport, R. I., or Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Blanchard recently passed the physical examination for the United States navy, thus adding another name to the long list of Barre young men who have turned seamen; since the war with Germany began.

The World of Pleasure Shows.

The famous World of Pleasure Shows which are coming to town the entire week of July 2 to play under the auspices of the Italian Athletic association, are reported to offer the strongest line of out-door attractions ever seen with any amusement enterprise of this nature. The score or more different shows that will be seen on the multi-color midway, which will be one mile long, represents the highest pinnacle ever reached in carnivaldom. All the latest inventions and up-to-date models in construction, the highest skilled artisans were employed for months in artistic, decorative and constructive work. Nothing has been overlooked, no excuses were in evidence to cheapen and save money, for the management of the World of Pleasure Shows has always given the amusement seeker more for his money than half a dozen of the old style "carnival shows" ever offered in their fondest dreams.

From the latest novelty ride "The Whip" at the entrance to the beautiful colored midway, down to the athletic arena at the end, each and every attraction caters to the pleasure seekers. "The Whip" is a French mechanical device, which fills the riders with sensations of the most lively kind, yet never oversteps the boundaries of safety. The Monkey Speedway is the latest novelty out. A written description only detracts from the pleasure of actually seeing. Dare devil "Wild Bill" is a motorcyclist, who rides about on an almost perpendicular track to the height of fifty feet. This is said to be one of the most thrilling and sensational performances ever undertaken by a human being.

Then follows a long list of worthy exhibitions, all equally meritorious, and among the many shows, there is not one to offend the most fastidious, for the management is careful of its record for cleanliness, always offering bright, entertaining and costly attractions, for nothing of an immoral nature has ever been tolerated; in fact, all are of such high-class character and merit that any can be visited with assurance of seeing a first-class program.—adv.
